

McNAB GIVES STATEMENT TODAY

Declares He Warned President Three Times Witnesses Were Being Suborned

TOLD ATTY. GEN. DRAGGING OUT CASES MEANT STIGMA

Judge Van Fleet Pays Tribute to McNab, Who Gets Hundreds of Cheering Telegrams

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—John L. McNab, who recently resigned as federal district attorney, today issued a startling statement as his last word to the department of justice. He said: "No one in California will be deceived by the lame and puerile defense of Attorney General McReynolds by President Wilson. He says I should have warned him three times that our witnesses were being suborned. I also informed McReynolds that any continuance would leave this office under the stigma of corruption. The attorney general knew this but cared not a whit so long as his influential friends were satisfied. The President in a gracious letter to McReynolds has approved his action. The people will now have to pay a princely fee to a special prosecutor for presenting the evidence that we have." McNab continued: "I warned him three times that delay meant destruction in these cases. He wanted the cases postponed so as to throttle them and save his rich and influential friends from trial." McNab announced in Judge Fleet's court today his severance of relations with the department of justice. Judge Van Fleet replied to McNab's announcement of his retirement: "Without reference to the nature of your departure I would be saying less than the truth if I did not state that the government is losing a most painstaking and efficient prosecuting officer. It is with sincere regret we learn of your retirement from office."

McNAB'S FRIENDS STAND BY HIM WITH ENCOURAGEMENT
SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Hundreds of telegrams of encouragement and congratulation are pouring in on former Federal District Attorney McNab, whose resignation was accepted late yesterday by President Wilson. McNab visited his office today to clear up all business preparatory to leaving the government service. Most of the telegrams were from prominent lawyers and other professional men.

PEACE ONCE MORE HOPED IN BALKANS

Bulgaria and Servia Seem Near to Settlement—Battle is in Progress

LONDON, June 25.—It is believed today that prospects of peace in the Balkans are brighter. There is no confirmation, however, of the reports that Bulgaria and Servia have agreed to accept the Russian arbitration plans. Belgrade dispatches say the new Servian cabinet is strongly peaceful and that Bulgaria is willing for arbitration.

Bulgars Attack Russians

50,000 VISITORS AT TURNFEST IN DENVER

5000 Gymnasts and 8000 Forest Children Join Pageant of Games and Drills

THOUSANDS TO SING IN SPLENDID SAENGERFEST

Olympiad of Turners Greatest Ever Held in U. S.; Will Last Till June 30

DENVER, June 25.—The greatest meet of German turners in the history of the United States began here today when the thirty-first Olympiad of the North American Gymnastic Union opened at the Lakeside stadium. The great turnfest will last until June 30. Three thousand turners in the men's classes, 1,000 women turners, 1,000 in the "elderly classes" and 8,000 Denver school children will participate in the huge pageant of gymnastic games and various drills. In addition to the gymnastic program a chorus of 600 voices, the singers from almost every state in the Union, and thousands of Colorado singers will take part in the saengerfest which is on the program for tomorrow. It was estimated that 50,000 visitors besides the participants were in Denver today. The turnfest was formally opened this morning with a meeting of the judges of the contests which will start tomorrow morning. Tonight the turners will assemble in the big city auditorium from which place a torchlight procession will start. The procession will be reviewed by Governor Ammons, the mayor of Denver, and the officers of the Gymnastic Union. A feature of tonight's ceremonies will be the singing of "Die Lorelei," the old German folksong, by a chorus of 2,000 Denver school children. There will be addresses by Governor Ammons, the officials of the union, the impressive ceremony of "delivering the golden key," and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by a chorus of 500 male voices, several thousand school children and 2,000 women turners.

TRAIN PLUNGES DOWN INTO RIVER

Accident Near Ottawa, Ontario; Ten Bodies Recovered; Many More Believed Dead

OTTAWA, Ont., June 25.—At least ten persons were killed outright when the Western Express on the Canadian Pacific plunged over an embankment into the Ottawa River this afternoon. Ten bodies are already reported as taken from the river. It is feared the total fatalities will be greatly increased. The train, which was loaded with immigrants, was traveling fast when spreading rails plunged it into the river. The names written on the walls of the lookout house are another matter, and those who contemplate taking summer trips to the top of Old Saddleback, one of the finest trips the country affords, might as well keep in mind that Uncle Sam considers the writing of a name upon any piece of property or the cutting of initials on a tree as defacing government property, and the forest supervisor and his rangers do not intend to stand for it. The names written on the lookout walls have been sent in to the San Diego office. The government officials may instruct those whose names appear on the mountain top house to take a little piece of sandpaper with them and a little paint, go to the top of the mountain and remove their names from the property. Either that, or be prosecuted. The matter is up to the forest supervisor. It is a small matter, perhaps, but Uncle Sam is particular about small matters, and what might appear as a small matter is likely to cause considerable trouble for some people. This summer there will be several hundred visitors to the peak. The government welcomes them, but demands that they be law-abiding even if away from home. The lookout service on the top of the mountain will begin the first of July. The government telephone line reaches to El Toro on this side of the range and to Temescal on the other side. The man at the lookout station keeps his eye out for fires and reports them to the forest rangers. The line on this side is connected with County Fire Warden Adkinson's house. John Hickey of San Juan Capistrano has been appointed fire guard with headquarters for the summer at San Juan Hot Springs.

MURDER SUSPECT ARRESTED

John Sullivan Suspected of Involvement in Murder of Wm. Miller at Venice
LOS ANGELES, June 25.—John Sullivan, a grading camp workman at Glendora, was arrested by sheriff's deputies and taken to Venice today on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of William Miller, the dairyman who was found in a cow pasture near Venice Sunday. Sullivan protests his innocence. The deputies say he formerly worked with Miller and was seen at Venice after the crime.

BAFFLED SUICIDE SLAYS WIFE AND 3 CHILDREN WITH HATCHET

TROUBLE ABREW FOR WRITERS OF NAMES

Forest Officials Find That Visitors to top of Mountain Helped Themselves

UNCLE SAM'S MAN AT SAN DIEGO TO ACT

Water Cans Broken by Freeze, Canned Goods Eaten, Dishes and Batteries Gone

Two forest rangers went to the top of Santiago Peak Monday and they found a few things that have started Uncle Sam's forest supervisor at San Diego on the trail. It seems that the federal authorities are very particular about having names written upon walls of government buildings, and Forest Supervisor Kinney is right certain that something will have to be done because names have been written upon the walls of the Lookout House on Santiago Peak, one of the peaks of Old Saddleback. The two forest rangers, Stephenson of El Toro and Brown of Elsinore, went to the peak to get the telephone line in shape for the summer's work. On arriving they found that the government cabin had been broken into, and between $3 and $5 worth of supplies had been taken. The door was left open and two burros that wandered up the trail boarded at the government's expense from a sack of flour and half a sack of rolled barley. Part of the supplies belonged to Stephenson. That there was deliberate thievery or maliciousness mixed up in the affair was proven by the fact that the batteries of the telephone had been carried away. Since there was burglary and damage done to government property, Uncle Sam's men are paying particular attention to the case, and so far not without result. Forest Ranger Brown went to San Diego yesterday. Forest Ranger Stephenson was here today getting new water cans. The writing of names on the walls of the lookout house is another matter, and those who contemplate taking summer trips to the top of Old Saddleback, one of the finest trips the country affords, might as well keep in mind that Uncle Sam considers the writing of a name upon any piece of property or the cutting of initials on a tree as defacing government property, and the forest supervisor and his rangers do not intend to stand for it. The names written on the lookout walls have been sent in to the San Diego office. The government officials may instruct those whose names appear on the mountain top house to take a little piece of sandpaper with them and a little paint, go to the top of the mountain and remove their names from the property. Either that, or be prosecuted. The matter is up to the forest supervisor. "I second the motion," said McPhee.

"The inspector is the legal officer," said Ey, "and I can't see how the two reports differ. The official report should be accepted. Hitherto we have not always proceeded in a strictly legal way, and I think we ought not to go in that haphazard way any more. We ought to let each officer do his work and follow the advice of the city attorney. This taking the law into our own hands has been wrong. I hope your motion will not prevail. You will be in a better position to defend yourselves. These may be my last words to you, and so please remember them when you think it over when I am not here."

Grubb: "You were present when we were told that building was not safe. I will not violate my oath by allowing that house to open while I think it is unsafe. When our inspector signs these two reports, absolutely opposite, I say he proves to me he is incompetent."

"I have been so sincere in this matter," said Ey, "that I have investigated for myself. It has never been proved that the talk against the building is true. On account of the public fear about that building, we took action. But since then three of us have gone over the building, and I for one was satisfied it had been given a black eye undeserved. I think it would hold the crowd that could sit down there."

McPhee: "If I had to recede from a position I had taken as a public official as you have, I should resign. Mr. Lutz selected that committee of five. After that committee reported, there came reflections of incompetence. Some time ago Mr. Roper admitted to me that he would have to take Mr. McNeill's word for what is in that building. I would not stuff myself by accepting this report when it differs so much from the other one."

Alderman: "I do not question Mr. Roper's ability, but I am surprised at the difference in these two reports. The first report says 'built with a factor of safety.' Factor means part. It says 'approximately 2 to 1.' Approximately means near to. It says it is not up to the best practice of the present time. This new report says 'absolutely safe.' If Mr. Roper has changed his mind I should like to know why he did it."

Roper said: "So far as the committee was concerned, at first we found nothing to criticize, but we thought it best to make these recommendations to absolutely quiet this talk about the building not being safe. We did not find a crack in the wall. The owner was perfectly willing to spend this money to forever set at rest this talk. I signed the first report with that in view and did not say the building was unsafe. The building is safe. That first report does not say the building is unsafe for its capacity load."

Attorney Forgy and Manager Uim were present. Forgy said that the city has an ordinance and that the board is absolutely powerless to take any action against a building without the authority of the inspector. "Mr. Roper signed those reports in absolute good faith and consistency," said Forgy. "There is nothing in that first report that says the building is unsafe. Not even Mr. Eley, a correspondence school architect, who has a partner interested in a rival theater, said it was unsafe. You have got to abide by Mr. Roper's report whether you accept it or not. That is the law, and we will hold you to it."

TRUSTEES, ULM AND LUTZ TO SUBMIT OPERA HOUSE QUESTION TO ARBITRATOR

Yesterday Afternoon's Meeting Brought About Agreement to Stand by an Outside Architect's Report

The meeting of the trustees yesterday ended with an agreement between the trustees on the one hand and Attorney Forgy and Manager Uim of the Grand Opera House on the other, to enter into a stipulation with W. F. Lutz, owner of the building, to select a competent architect to examine the building and abide by his decision. If he says to close the house, Uim agrees to close until the repairs needed are made. If he says the house is safe, the trustees will say no more about the affair.

This afternoon the trustees met to go over the terms of the proposed stipulation. It is proposed to have the architect answer a number of questions as to the safety of the building and as to what repairs, if any, ought to be made. Tonight at 7:30 o'clock a meeting will be held by the trustees, Manager Uim and W. F. Lutz, owner of the opera house. At that meeting the arbitrator will be selected.

The meeting yesterday opened with the reading of the official report of Building Inspector H. H. Roper, saying the house is absolutely safe for its seating capacity and saying that the exits are inadequate in case of a stampede. This report was compared with the one in which Roper with other committeemen selected by Lutz recommended certain changes be made in the opera house. President Ey strongly urged that Roper's official report be accepted. Ey has taken the situation in an intensely serious manner. He hardly slept for four nights, and the suspense was getting burdensome. From one of his remarks in the meeting yesterday he contemplated either death or resignation.

"I differ from that," said Grubb. "I ask the building inspector how he can sign both reports, one saying the building is safe and the other saying repairs should be made?" Roper said the two reports are not contradictory, and the recommendation for additions did not mean that the building was unsafe, but merely as a change to put at rest all doubt in the public's mind, not his, as to the safety of the building. "I move the inspector's report be not accepted," said Grubb.

"I second the motion," said McPhee. "The inspector is the legal officer," said Ey, "and I can't see how the two reports differ. The official report should be accepted. Hitherto we have not always proceeded in a strictly legal way, and I think we ought not to go in that haphazard way any more. # WILSON PUTS APPROVAL ON ACTION

Openly Justifies McReynolds in Delaying White Slave and Fuel Company Cases

BUT ORDERS PROSECUTION OF CASES TO BE PUSHED

Accepts McNab's Resignation and Charges Him With Injustice to Atty. Gen.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Last evening President Wilson made public a report from Attorney General McReynolds, made to him on the Caminetti-Diggs white slave case in California. McReynolds in his report said that the details of the white slave case had passed out of his thoughts and that when Secretary of Labor Wilson asked him that it be put off in the interest of the immigration service he did not look up the papers.

A letter from the President to Attorney General McReynolds acknowledging his excuse for postponing the Diggs-Caminetti and Western Fuel Company cases, was dispatched last evening. The letter said in part: "I am entirely satisfied that the course you took in both these cases was prompted by sound and impartial judgment, and a clear instinct for what was fair and right. I approve your course very heartily and without hesitation. But I agree with you that what we may think of what has been done does not relieve us of the obligation to press these cases with the utmost diligence and energy. I approve very heartily of your suggestion that, in the circumstances, special counsel be employed, the ablest that we can obtain. I will be very glad to confer with you about the selection. I hope that you will do this without delay. I am very glad indeed that you are giving your personal attention to the immediate and diligent prosecution of the case, which I agree with you in regarding as of serious importance from every point of view."

President Wilson last evening accepted Federal District Attorney McNab's resignation in a letter sent by wire as follows:

"I greatly regret that you should have acted so hastily and under so complete misapprehension of the actual circumstances, but since you have taken such a course, and have given your resignation the form of an inexcusable intimation of injustice and wrongdoing on the part of your superior, I release you without hesitation and accept your resignation to take effect at once."

"Publish Correspondence" Says Kahn
WASHINGTON, June 25.—Representative Kahn of California said today:

"I think the entire correspondence in the McNab case should be made public. The statements from the White House contain only excerpts of this correspondence. I shall appear before the judicial committee tomorrow and urge a favorable report on my resolution. The people should know the evidence, which might show the motives that caused the postponement of the Diggs-Caminetti and the Western Fuel cases, and led McNab to make his charges."

F. J. HENNEY AND OTHERS MENTIONED AS PROSECUTORS

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The names of Matt I. Sullivan and Thomas Hayden are coupled with that of Francis J. Henney for appointment as special prosecutor in the Caminetti-Diggs and Western Fuel Co. cases. The executive offices insist that President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds intend to select a man because of his standing at the bar rather than his political influence.

A statement from the White House says the special prosecutor will be appointed today. He will have charge of the white slave cases against Drew Caminetti and Maury Diggs, also the Western Fuel Co., and customs fraud cases. The Diggs-Caminetti case is on the calendar for July 8, and the Western Fuel case for July 15.

Henney Traveling to the Coast
SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Direct information in regard to the reported selection of Francis J. Henney as special federal prosecutor in the Diggs-Caminetti and Western Fuel cases, which caused the resignation of Federal District Attorney McNab and the resulting scandal, was unobtainable today. Henney is on a train en route to this coast.

DETECTIVE PINKERTON ILL
OMAHA, June 25.—Suffering from ptomaine poisoning, William A. Pinkerton, the noted detective, lies ill at his hotel here today. Pinkerton's condition is not critical. He was stricken while en route from Chicago to Denver.

ORANGE SEWER FARM IS CREATING A STIR

ORANGE, June 25.—A prosecution of Orange city officials is probable, for the reason that the sewer farm maintained by the city at West Orange continues to be as much of a nuisance to the residents of the neighborhood as it has been in the past.

District Attorney West and the city trustees have had a conference over the matter, but just what conclusion they came to has not been learned. It is understood that the district attorney's office takes the ground that the Orange officials have had ample time to make necessary changes in the manner of handling the sewage of this city, and that it is time court action was taken. From the fact that the district attorney is taking a hand in the matter it is supposed that the contemplated action will be a prosecution under violation of a state law.

Patience has ceased to be a virtue. It is the way the West Orange residents look at the situation. They have been looking at it in just that way for a long time. They had the last grand jury out on the sewer farm, and the grand jury was quite emphatic in its statement that something ought to be done. The State Board of Health has had an inspection here. And still the pollution of the atmosphere is unabated.

This afternoon Deputy District Attorney Koepsel stated that a complaint had been drawn up but not yet signed or filed. This complaint as worded charges the City of Orange with maintaining a nuisance by allowing the sewer farm to be operated as it is operated now.

Y.M.C.A. CAMP A BEAUTY SPOT

County Secretary Hamilton
Visited Catalina Island
Outing Place

R. J. Hamilton, county secretary of the Y. M. C. A., visited the site of the County Y. M. C. A. camp the first part of this week and made arrangements for a number of important matters. This camp is named after Mr. Thos. J. Wilkie, of Los Angeles, who started the county Y. M. C. A. work in California, and is carried out jointly by the Y. M. C. A. county committees of Orange, Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties.

It is beautifully located on Catalina Island about four miles from Avalon. There is plenty of ground for games of all kinds and a good bathing beach. Last year more than twenty boys were taught to swim during the two weeks. This year the same person has been secured as swimming instructor, Mr. Bernhard Oertly, of Garden Grove, who has attended this camp for the past six seasons.

This year the camp has been divided into two parties, the boys from twelve to sixteen going first, from August 6 to 18 and the older boys and young men going from August 20 to 29. The camp fee has been put as low as possible, only nine dollars for other camp. Each county is limited to forty boys in either camp, unless the other counties fall down on their appointments. All entries for the first camp should be in by July 19 to be sure of a place, and by August 1 for the second camp.

The boys will have the use of a number of rowboats, four of which will be new this year. A launch has also been secured for the use of the camp at certain times. This will afford the boys an opportunity to take pleasure trips around the island.

Leaders are arranged for every tent of seven boys and four secretaries have the supervision of the camp. All will be done that can be done to make the life of the boys during their stay in camp as pleasant and profitable as possible. Those desiring more information should see some member of the Y. M. C. A. committee or write to the County Secretary.

Monument to Great Organizer

Out of honor to the memory of Felix Alexandre Guilman, acknowledged to be the greatest organizer of his day, a monument is to be erected in Paris. The American committee will raise $5,000 by subscription as the contribution from this country. He first came to America for a series of concerts on the great organ in Festival hall at the world's fair, Chicago. This was followed by a brief tour. Again he returned for a tour in 1898, and for a third time for an engagement of forty recitals on the organ at the St. Louis exposition. At the conclusion he played twenty-four concerts in a single month before returning to Paris. His organ pieces number up into the hundreds.

OPIUM MAKING IN U.S. MAY BE ENDED

Bill With Drastic Penalties for Manufacture Goes to Congress

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The house yesterday afternoon sent the Harrison bill placing a tax of $200 per pound upon opium manufactured in this country for smoking purposes, to the senate. The passage of this bill is looked upon as a forerunner of a complete annihilation of the opium traffic in this country.

The bill was introduced at the beginning of this session by Representative Francis Burton Harrison of New York and it was reported favorably from the ways and means today. It was the first of a series of bills that are expected to be passed by the house at this session. The act of 1903 prohibits the importation of opium except for medical purposes. That act when passed was supposed to suffice for the extermination of the traffic in "smoking" opium. It developed recently that people on the Pacific coast have determined to get around the act by manufacturing smoking opium from poppies which grow in great abundance on the slope states.

The bill provides that a bond of $100,000 shall be required before any person is allowed to manufacture the drug. Infractions will be punished by a fine of $10,000 and a penitentiary term.

Preserving Light of Firefly Probably as far back as 1891 it was known that the luminous parts of fireflies, glowworms, etc., could be dried and preserved out of contact with the air for considerable periods without losing their light-giving power. In late years it has been possible to preserve the light-giving power of the light-giving power for at least eighteen months. Kastle and McDermitt were able, upon opening tubes containing the luminous organs of the common firefly preserved in hydrogen or a vacuum, to obtain quite a brilliant light by simply moistening with water. The light was increased when hydrogen peroxide replaced the water. However, scientists have yet to discover the firefly's secret of producing light without heat.

Deserts for Children Now sometimes for a desert I make a plain wheat breakfast food porridge with a chocolate sauce. They like it better than plain. When I make cookies I cut some small ones in heart shapes. They think they taste better. Sugar cookies I sometimes put three raisins on and call "Man in the Moon," for there is a good deal in the man. Sometimes I sprinkle with sugar or coconut, in fact, anything for a change. Children love frosting on puddings even if it is not rich.—Boston Globe.

Lemon Custard Layer Cake Two cups sugar, one-half cup butter, one cup milk, three eggs, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder and three cups flour. This makes four layers. For filling take the juice and grated rind of two lemons, one egg, one cup sugar and one-half cup water, one teaspoon butter and two tablespoons of flour mixed smooth with a little of the water. Boil this together until it thickens (watching carefully), then place between layers.

Thoughts on Life "Life is only that is not life, but the way we live it." Mrs. Lethbury was a woman most of whose opinions were heirlooms. She was proud of their age and saw no reason for discarding them while they were still serviceable.—The Mission of Jane.

HISTORY OF THE STAMP IS TOLD

Philatelic Exposition Traces its Evolution—Valuable Stamp Exhibits Shown

PARIS, June 25.—The International Philatelic Exposition is on here today. One interesting feature of the exhibit traces the history of the stamp from the time it was invented in 1840 by Rowland Hill, an Englishman, up to the various uses of stamps today. Brazil, which was the next country to adopt the stamp and France which did not use it until 1849 and the most interesting exhibits.

The exposition is held under the auspices of the French government and the ministers of posts and telegraphs and of the colonies are directly in charge of the affair. Stamp collections from scores of countries valued at many millions of dollars are on view.

Balzac's Fame Notwithstanding the lectures and appreciations of Henry James the genius of Balzac is not understood in all quarters.

There is one middle-aged woman who is particularly deficient in her knowledge of French fiction. She was calling on a friend who owns a very fine set of Balzac's works. In this edition the title of the volume, sometimes called "The Magic Skin," is translated "Wild Ass's Skin."

"I should like to sell the books," said the woman who owns them, "but I am afraid I couldn't get anything for them. It is an excellent edition, too, and cost a heap of money. The binding is especially fine."

The literary benten held in her hand at that moment the volume labeled "Wild Ass's Skin." She looked at it curiously.

"Yes," she said in all sincerity, "I imagine it is. I don't know anything about the different bindings of books, but I suppose wild ass's skin is very good."

Well Matched

A traveler in the west came across two men having a heated argument. The traveler drew nearer and heard:

"What do you know about the Lord's Prayer? I'll bet you ten dollars you can't recite the first line."

"I'll take the bet," said the other man, and, turning to the stranger, asked him to hold the money.

"Now, what is the first line?" asked the first one.

"Now I lay me down to sleep,"

"You win," said the first man. "I didn't think you knew it."—Lippincott's.

Strive for Capability

Always in the myriad-shaped struggle that is going on upon the stage of the world, capacity means victory and life; incapacity, defeat and death. If we would win physical triumphs we must be stronger physically than the brute force with which we are contending; and if we would win intellectual or moral triumphs, then intellectually and morally we must be more capable than the opposition. In spite of prayer and protest, the sovereign law keeps right on—and Byng went to the wall.

How to Cut Thin Silk

In a department in the April Woman's Home Companion, entitled "The Exchange"—a department devoted to practical household ideas, appears the following:

"By placing thin silk between two pieces of tissue paper, you will find that you can cut it as straight as though it were heavy cloth; there will be no annoying puckering."

WEDDING AT CHURCH TODAY

Miss Edna Mathews of Orange
Became Bride of Walter
Lowell

ORANGE, June 25.—An impressive church wedding this morning united two well known young people, Miss Edna Mathews and Mr. Walter Lowell. The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock in the Presbyterian church parlors, Rev. Jackson officiating. A large crowd, numbering fifty guests from Orange and Santa Ana, were present.

The west window, arched with sweet peas and ferns formed a background for the ceremony, which was preceded by Mendelsohn's wedding march, with Miss Hazel Morrison at the piano. The bride wore a charming gown of chiffon over flesh colored satin, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and maid in hair fern tied with tulle. The ring ceremony was used.

A reception followed the ceremony at which refreshments of brick ice cream and cake displayed the pink and white color scheme. Much interest was given to the handsome collection of wedding gifts, silver, cut glass, china and linen.

The departure of the bride and groom, the former attired in a neat suit of shepherd plaid trimmed in Nell Rose, was the occasion of a shower of rice. The couple finally escaped and caught a train for San Diego, where they will spend their honeymoon.

They will make their home in Orange when they return.

Miss Daisy Douglass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Douglass, of this city, and Mr. R. L. Howell, of Pomona, were married this afternoon in the United Presbyterian church, at the corner of Bush and Sixth streets, in Santa Ana. The ceremony was performed at 3 o'clock by Rev. Tidball and was followed by a reception in the church parlors. A solo, "Oh, Promise Me," sung by Miss Ethel Newlin of Pasadena, a cousin of the bride, was followed by Mendelsohn's wedding march, played by Mr. Warner, organist of the church, using the new $5000 pipe organ. The bride wore a white going-away suit with hat to match.

After congratulations and a short reception the newlyweds departed for a two weeks wedding trip to parts unknown. On their return they will make their home in Pomona. Mr. and Mrs. Howell received many beautiful gifts of cut glass, linen, china and silverware. A notable feature of the wedding was the fact that Rev. Tidball, who performed the ceremony, was the same minister who married the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglass, twenty-three years ago.

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Howell, of Pomona, Mr. and Mrs. Ford of Fullerton, Dr. and Mrs. Dossart of Brawley, Mrs. Ella J. Newlin, Miss Ethel Newlin, William Newlin, Miss Marie Giles, Misses Beta and Nita Lorimer, Miss Mary Johnson and Mrs. Hollingsworth of Pasadena and Mrs. Julia Brown of Long Beach.

A formal reception to new members was given at the First Methodist church last evening. A total of 152 new members who have been received in the last few months, were guests at the affair. Four hundred people were present.

A program was given by the four winners of the high school oratorical try-outs, all of whom belong to the Methodist church. Wm. Kroener gave his senior oration, Miss Emily Carey the junior essay, Miss Ruth Cullings the Sophomore story, and Miss Rena Carey the freshman declamation.

Miss Elsie Parsons contributed a vocal solo and Misses Gladys Gilton and Ruth Benson played a piano duet. M. M. Fishback was chairman of the evening. An address of welcome was given by Rev. B. C. Cory and two numbers were rendered by the ladies' quartet, Mrs. Jasper, Miss Cory, Miss Rowlands and Mrs. Van Skike.

The Ladies' Aid and the official board were in charge of the entertainment and served ice cream and cake. A fine time was reported.

The Sewing Circle will be entertained this evening by Miss Minna Maass of South Orange street.

Mrs. Vera Hanum returned today to Anaheim, after spending several days in Orange.

The El Modena school electors held a meeting last evening according to call, for the sale of the old school building and site. Fifty persons were present, two besides the members of the board. It was decided to sell the old building by sealed bids to be opened July 5, 1913. C. W. Post and W. H. Flippin are attending a meeting of the citrus growers in Los Angeles today, representing the McPherson Heights Association.

Mrs. G. B. Lancaster is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawford, at Altadena. She is slowly recovering from her recent illness.

The plastering work on the new El Modena school building is now completed and the painters are beginning their work. The new building is progressing rapidly and will be finished within a few weeks.

Mrs. F. W. Edwards, wife of Contractor Edwards of El Modena, is leaving with her two children to spend the summer with her parents in South Dakota.

O. H. Smith, foreman of the Modjeska ranch, spent several days of last week in Garden Grove on account of the illness and death of his brother, who succumbed to an attack of lockjaw after an illness of two days. Mr. Smith returned to the ranch the first of the week.

HIGH PRAISE IS GIVEN COUNTY LECTURER

Frank Wiggins Says McDannald is One of Best Walking Advertisements He Knows

Every report that has ever come from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce concerning the work of D. W. McDannald as Orange County representative is to the effect that McDannald is making good in every sense of the word. According to Frank Wiggins, the veteran publicity man of Los Angeles, McDannald is the right man in the right place. McDannald is to continue in service, and this summer will go East to two or three big land shows, there to spread the gospel of Orange County.

The Board of Supervisors has directed McDannald to stay on the job. Something of the man's work may be gleaned from the following letter written by Wiggins to Chairman Talbert of the Board of Supervisors:

"Dear Sir:—We understand that Mr. McDannald's time expires within the next few days as representative of Orange County in our exhibit room. I trust that your Board will see its way clear to reappoint him as we think his services are worth continuing."

"We consider him one of the best walking advertisements that any county in Southern California can procure. His knowledge of Orange and her resources, attractions, and possibilities are of such a character that no one, in talking with him, will but believe his representations are true, and to part with him now, when people are looking for permanent investments prior to the opening of the Panama Canal, would in my estimation, be a great loss."

"I trust that in your dealing with the matter your conclusions will be favorable to his retention. We can give him the strongest recommendation that was ever given to any man as a representative on our exhibit floors."

THE COLLEGE GRADUATE AND BASE BALL

Hundreds of college ball players at this moment face a most perplexing question. Shall they take the $50, $100, or more a week that the insinuating league scouts offer them? Or shall they return to every-day employments, in which, for a few years, they may not be able to earn their own board? Shall it be the cheers of the multitude, and black lines in the newspapers? Or shall it be dull prosaic addition and subtraction in an office, the grind of producing cloth or boots or shoes?

Formerly when Mother heard that her loved boy, destined for law books or the brick trade, had become a professional ball player, she almost wept. On the ball field, she thought, sporty men swore, gambled, and adjourned to the saloon.

Now, there are plenty of absolutely clean, high minded fellows in all the big leagues. A man must at least be temperate to hit a swiftly curving ball.

Probably the average player in the big leagues earns more than the average college graduate for the same period in business or the professions. Probably, also, the average big league player quits with less money laid aside than the average college graduate has at the same age in his business or profession.

The atmosphere surrounding the ball player is not one conducive to thrift. He is subject to the adulation of the sporting fraternity. But they are more than willing to smoke his cigars and accept his provision for their thirst.

So it is hazardous as a business proposition for a fellow to go into professional base ball permanently, unless he is the master of his own will, and can be satisfied to live his own life. And he knows that in ten to twenty years he has a great big break to make. While his former classmate has reached a substantial success, he must learn the A B C of some business, though he should be assisted on his way by a substantial capital, which he may lose.

PURE FOOD WELL COOKED

There is some truth in the assertion that neither states' rights nor slavery, but the frying-pan, brought on the Civil War; for frying encapsulated the food in a layer of fat impervious to the digestive juices, and the resulting indigestion aroused the mutual enmities and the berserker rage of our fathers. America is preeminently the land of the deadly hot bread, the sinker, the flapjack, the Bingo frankfurter, the quick lunch, dyspepsia, with its consequent neurasthenia, and the stomach bitters, which often approximate whiskey in alcohol content. It would not be difficult to prove that "bad cooking has driven many a man to drink." Not only are our meats often badly cooked, but also vegetables are frequently boiled in a way which deprives them of their characteristic odor and their toothsome. We make other dietetic errors when we sugar our salads and salt our fruits. There would seem to be among our people, in larger measure than elsewhere in civilization, a contempt for the culinary art, as if it were beneath notice, or decadent, or savoring of the effete old world. Yet what in life can be more essential than the right preparation of substances which are to keep the human machinery going, in order that the best may be got out of it, with fewest slowings down or interruptions?

In the Old World the relation of zest and fragrance to food is held vital, and justly so. Great Europeans, indeed, have seriously interested themselves in such matters. It is a dictum on the Continent that the sauce is born, not made. On numerous occasions the elder Dumas invited friends to dinner, personally prepared the most succulent dishes, and then, exchanging his cook's attire for his dress clothes, regaled his cronies with the products of his "mobile art." Montaigne wrote a notable book on the science of cooking. Frederick the Great praised his cook in verse—the former being much better than the latter. Lord Bacon thought it no shame to bend his mighty intellect to the problems of the kitchen. The composer Rossini composed salads as symphonies in their way as his operas, and regretted that by reason of his neglected early education he could not have made cooking, rather than music, his profession. In Brillat-Savarin's great work, "The Physiology of Taste," are axioms as profound—at least as entertaining—as ever Plato or Epictetus set down. For example:

"The education of the tastes and the appetite should be an index of the degree of civilization."

"Digestion, of all bodily functions, has most influence on the morals of the individual."

"A good dinner is but little dearer than a bad one."

"The most momentous decisions of personal and material life are made at table."

"The fate of nations depends on how they are fed."

"The man of sense and culture alone understands eating."

"The discovery of a new dish does more for the happiness of the human race than the discovery of a planet."

Louis XVIII invented a famous dish—which is perhaps the best thing he ever did for his people. The Prince of Conde won international fame as the inventor of an improved bean soup. Richelieu, Colbert and Mazarin were celebrated for like achievements.

It does not follow that, in emulation, our chief magistrate should add to his already illustrious services by donning an apron and inventing an entirely original sauce princetonnaise; or that our genial secretary of state should aid our visitors from foreign courts to forget the episode of the unforgotten grape-juice by evolving for their delectation a consommé à la Commener, but our fellow citizens and their better nine-tenths, and our doctors, and most emphatically our nurses, ought to make pure food well cooked a matter of serious national import. The only animal which cooks its food is man, and this is a badge of distinction from the brute. We cook food for at least four reasons: to sterilize it, to make it nutritious, to render it more easily digestible, and to improve or vary its flavor. The last of these, in the opinion of The Journal of the American Medical Association, is at least as important as any of the others. When the gustatory nerves tingle in response to the stimulus of some rare condiment or aroma, the saliva flows in joyous excitement, and the digestive juices, by whose benign influences food is transformed into nourishment, respond in salutary and fullest measure. The simple and pleasant way to bring this about is to pay proper attention to the flavor of food.

BAND CONCERTS HERE AND THERE

Riverside is seriously considering the proposition of spending $1700 for band concerts. The Santa Barbara Press refers to the fact that the Channel City, with a population somewhat less than that of Riverside, raises $20,000 a year for its municipal band. This sum, however, is largely raised by private subscription.

The Santa Barbara paper makes the following comment on the situation at Riverside and emphasizes the value of public concerts:

"Riverside is debating whether or not to spend $1700 for municipal music. The Riverside Press, apparently, thinks it is an excellent idea."

"It is not the Santa Barbara municipality that spends more than $20,000 for good music the year round, but the fund is raised here by one way and another. The city's contribution is not so large as the merits of the band and the resulting benefits justify, but it certainly equals what Riverside proposes to raise."

"Good music has more than one basis of value. It affords enjoyment and it is educational. The people here think enough of it to give it liberal support, and no city that takes the same view will regret it."

SUBMIT QUESTION TO ARBITRATOR

menous hurry just when a new theater is starting up?" Forgy disclaimed meaning that there were any ulterior motives on the part of the board, but he thought there was a studied agitation brought about by interested parties outside of the board. Uhm said his contention is that the house is safe.

McPhee: "I won't make a fool of myself by accepting this last report. They have threatened damages, let them sue."

Uhm: "We should undo the wrong we have done."

Grubb: "We have done no wrong to undo."

McPhee: "When this building was condemned the chairman of this board figuratively patted himself on the back for doing it. When a damage suit was threatened he got sick, and now that there seems to be an easy way out by accepting this report he seems to be getting better."

Uhm: "If we don't follow the law we will get in a whole lot worse."

Grubb: "If we accept this report we acknowledge that the building is safe. Mr. Lutz has repudiated his own committee. I think we ought to call in an expert from outside, perhaps the state engineer."

Alderman said that the Long Beach disaster was responsible for the stir here, and not an "insidious lobby" as intimated by Forgy.

Forgy: "Uhm was not a party to that committee, and Uhm is the injured party. Now to be fair we will offer to go in with you to select an unbiased architect of high standing and experience from some other city, and if you will agree to abide by the result, so will we. We can ask Mr. Lutz to enter into the agreement also."

"That's business, that's business," urged Ey, seeing a clear way out of the woods.

Grubb: "If such an architect says the building is safe, I shall take my seat with all the grace in the world and be satisfied that my duty is done."

Alderman made the motion to arrange for the stipulation, and a meeting at 2 o'clock today for selecting the architect.

Doings In Social and Club Circles

THEIR ANNUAL OUTING

Woman's Club Spent Delightful Day at Newport Beach; Had Husbands as Guests

According to their custom, a most happy one by the way, of closing their club season with a social meeting in the nature of an outing, the members of the Woman's Club of this city spent yesterday at Newport Beach with headquarters at the beach cottage of Mr. and Mrs. B. Utley. Nature lent herself to the perfecting of the event, the day being a perfect one. The majestic Pacific presented a glorious picture under the fresh breeze that rippled its surface into a million dancing waves.

The hospitable Utley home was appropriately decked for the reception of the club women, the club color of lavender prevailing in the decorations. A merry crowd of ladies and some of the husbands arrived via electric cars and automobiles until there were thirty present. They carried with them lunch baskets of generous proportions that were suggestive of good things to eat, a prophecy that was fulfilled when the contents were revealed and placed on the table by the ladies who constituted the refreshment committee. Broad bands of lavender crepe paper extended from the corners of the long table to the center and the chandelier above was festooned with the pretty crinkled paper.

Gathered about the generously spread table, the company joined in the majestic words of the Doxology: "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," before taking their places. Following the really sumptuous spread the retiring president of the club, Mrs. Anna Gale, called on the guests of honor, the husbands, to make brief talks. The men responded to the invitation in various ways, C. F. Crose telling humorous stories for his share of the speech-making, and Mr. Crose of Long Beach, who with his wife had been asked as special guests of the club, spoke on the pleasures such reunions as the one in which they were engaged. Messrs. Stockslager, Diers and others gave impromptu speeches that proved to be very pleasing.

Later the party gathered in front of the cottage and was "taken" by the Newport Beach photographer. The ladies then adjourned to the cottage of Mrs. J. M. Akins, where they were shown her interesting pottery collection secured during the residence of the Akins in Mexico. In the meantime the gentlemen of the party motored to Balboa.

Needlework and conversation passed the remaining hours of the afternoon for the ladies varied by the transaction of a bit of business, the passing of a vote of thanks to Mrs. Utley and her able assistant, Mrs. D. A. Dale, for their delightful hospitality they had provided. When the club members and their guests departed for home they were unanimous in opinion that one of the happiest outings in the club's history had been enjoyed.

House Party at Newport Beach

The members of the Gleaners' Class of the First Christian Church formed a house party for Newport Beach over Monday and Tuesday of this week, returning here last night after the jolliest sort of a time. The girls were chaperoned by Mrs. A. E. Bird, Miss G. R. Lovelady and Miss Ray Knight, and were entertained at the Bird cottage and Williams cottages. Mrs. Williams of Tustin kindly tendering the use of her seaside home for sleeping purposes, a courtesy much appreciated.

Besides enjoying the boating, bathing and other joys of beach life, the outing was marked by an exciting experience. Two of the girls fell into the bay at West Newport and had to be rescued.

Those in the party besides the chaperons were Misses Esther Bird, Emma Davis, Mildred Dixie, Thelma Fippis, Lois Fippis, Verna Nimmo, Eleanor Sturgeon, Dulcinea Brown, Irene Minter, Gertrude Minter, Ruth Chambers, Ardelle Taylor, Sophronia Walker, Blanche Smith and Ethel Brady.

Dual Birthday Event

Mrs. Fred Price last evening entertained with a dinner and evening party in honor of the birthday of her daughter, Miss Thelma Price, and of her sister, Miss Nell Morrison. The event took place at the Price home, 815 F street, and the house was gay with lovely Shasta daisies, carrying out a color scheme of white and yellow. A bowl of Shasta daisies occupied the center of the dining table and a big birthday cake was one of the features of the pretty dinner given for the two honorees whose birthdays fell on the same day.

Following the dinner, games, and music, both vocal and instrumental, were enjoyed. The latter part of the evening was spent at the second show at the new Auditorium, Mrs. Price taking the party as her guests. Those enjoying the varied pleasures of the evening were the honorees, Misses Price and Morrison, Misses Mabel Wiseman, Sarah Wiseman, Leona Shoemaker, Hattie Anderson, Gladys Cook and Miss Rachel Dyer of Pasadena.

Alumni Reunion

About twenty of the high school graduates of the class of 1912 assembled last night at the home of Carson Smart and held a merry reunion. They had a general all-around good time with reminiscences, gay chat and some amusing pastimes such as a guessing contest in which the names of magazines were to be found, and in which Margery McGee and John Newcomer were the winners of first prizes and Dorothy Harding and Charles Swanner carried off the booty.

After the evening was well spent, refreshments of cake, candy and ice cream were served, ending the very happy affair. The young people said good night with the fond wish that such reunions may be annual events and may always prove as happy as the one of last night.

Those who assembled last evening included Misses Mabel Mansur, Fay McDowell, Margery McGee, Eleanor Ritter, Dorothy Harding, Isabel Smith, Edna McMurphy, Lucille Dessery, Irene Edwards, Audrey Elm, Bernice Roper, Chas. Tidball, Chas. Swanner, John Swanner, Carson Smart, John Newcomer, Walter Stafford, Owen McCord, Ruel Reed, Ross Shafer.

IN PRETTY BIRCH PARK

W.C.T.U. Mothers and Friends Hold Successful Outing to Close Season of Work

One of the pleasantest afternoons spent at Birch Park by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. was enjoyed yesterday, when at least a hundred mothers and their friends gathered on the beautiful sward under the trees and enjoyed two delightful hours of music, song, talks, conversation and picnic refreshments. After a stirring voluntary rendered by the Haines Orchestra all united in singing "America" with orchestra accompaniment. Scripture quotations were given by a large number of the women, followed with prayer by "Mother" Burns.

Only a short business session was held and a couple of matters of importance brought before the Union, one of which was the decision to purchase books and catechism for the L. T. L. plans having been recently formulated to start this branch of the work.

An unfavorable report was given of the various moving-picture shows in the city by one of the committee who had visited each show-house and found most undesirable features in connection with these places.

The W. C. T. U. commended recent act of the city trustees in safeguarding the lives of the people of Santa Ana.

Mrs. McElree took charge of the program that followed and which was much enjoyed. Two delightful selections were rendered by the orchestra. Mrs. Clay Kellogg pleasantly recited two or three short readings and in her charming manner Mrs. Winkler sang a temperance solo. Four dainty little maids representing the L. T. L.'s sweetly sang two numbers and gave a recitation in unison. Mrs. McElree then divided the company into four groups for round table talks, with Mesdames Hill, Utt, Winkler and Norman presiding over these tables.

The following subjects were discussed: "Cooperation With City Parent-Teacher's Association," "Expressing Doubt in the Child—Is It Wrong?" "Home Environment—How Does It Concern the Community?" "Cheerfulness—A Requisite." These subjects all bearing upon the home and child brought forth expressions of deep thought and the discussion of them was heartily entered into. The time spent at these tables was both profitable and interesting.

Sumptuous lunch was served at the close of the program, thus bringing the company into closer social communion and fellowship. A goodly number of the Tustin Union responded to the invitation to be present and enjoyed the afternoon in getting better acquainted with their Santa Ana sisters. Everybody had a royal good time and went home happy.

The committee assisting Mrs. McElree in making this meeting so successful, furnishing fruit and distributing the lunch in a careful and timely manner, were Mesdames J. M. Raugh, J. A. Wilkes, H. Clay Kellogg, Ruth Jayne and Mrs. Vawter.

To Have Surprise Luncheon

The Second Section of Ebell Household Economics will go to Balboa on Friday, June 27, for a surprise luncheon. The committee will furnish ice cream, coffee and sandwiches. Members are requested to take fork, spoon and cup, and anything in the line of eatables they wish for the luncheon. The car leaves at 10:10 for Balboa.

A Lawn Supper

Some twenty of the girls of the Philathea class of the First Presbyterian Sunday school met late yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Rena Stafford on North Main street and had a jolly time. Last evening was the date set for the business meeting of the class, but the young women had previously decided to unite pleasure with the matters of business, so a lawn supper was planned. Each maiden carried with her a well filled lunch box and when the goodies contained in the boxes were all spread out on the table on the green lawn, a real feast was in evidence. The supper hour was one of pleasure, the laughing girls chatting merrily over the delicacies.

The business meeting held in the house later in the evening was not as serious as it might have been, the girls having a social time as they transacted the various matters of class business.

Those present were Miss Lila Ritter, the class president; Misses Greta Rice, Eva Osborn, Nancy Elder, Hazel Rowley, Frances Cook, Jennie McDonald, Hazel Stockslager, Lera Stafford, Adeline Hill, Jennie Finch, Louise Grubb, Stella Nilsson, Frances McDonald, Miss Hawley, Florence Doig, Nada Woodward and Alice Wassner.

Modern Woodmen Banquet

Last evening the Golden Gate Forester team and officers were entertained here by Oak Camp, No. 7576, Modern Woodmen of America of Santa Ana.

Miss Mary Ely and Miss Fannie Smart left this morning for a three weeks' stay at Ivywild and Keenes Camp.

Mrs. Ed Nelson and little son will leave on Friday for a week's visit in San Diego with Mrs. Nelson's friend, Mrs. E. E. Heilbron.

Miss Ethel Gardner, who taught at Anaheim last year and who has accepted a re-appointment there for next year, spent last week at Banning visiting her cousin, Mr. Wilford, and the J. G. Morrisons. She reports Mr. Morris as fast regaining his health. On Friday Miss Gardner will leave by boat for Berkeley, where she will attend the state university summer school. Following that, she will spend a month in the mountains near Bakersfield before returning home.

Two candidates were adopted into the local camp, the initiation being conducted by the visitors, much to the pleasure of all of the large number of woodmen who were present. Later the drill team put on an exhibition drill which fully upheld the reputation of this team as being the best drill team in Southern California.

After adjournment a banquet was served for the visitors and members, plates being laid for one hundred. Full justice was done to the elegant banquet which was one of the spreads for which the Royal Neighbors, who served the repast, are famous.

A Trip to Saddleback

Miss Boyd and her cousins, Misses Helen and Vernon Claytor, of San Diego, Miss Vera Joplin, Lloyd Davies and Robert Paine, Jr. returned last night from a two days' trip to the top of Saddleback mountain. Their adventures included rough trails, a bucking mule with a particularly unruly disposition and a large rattlesnake, but these slight inconveniences were more than offset by the beautiful view from the top of the mountain and a brilliantly moonlight night in camp. Mr. Andrew Joplin met the party at his ranch and accompanied them on the rest of their journey. Forest Rangers Brown and Stephenson also went to the top of the mountain on Monday to make some needed repairs in the government telephone line and the courteous treatment of the party received at the hands of Uncle Sam's men, who are both experienced campers, added to the pleasantness of the trip.

Burt Stephenson, forest ranger, came up from El Toro this morning for a brief stay in town.

Glenn Martin went up to Los Angeles this morning after several days at Balboa and Santa Ana.

Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, who delivered his well known lecture, "What's Under Your Hat?" at the College of Music last night for the benefit of the First Baptist church Endeavorers, was a dinner guest at the Horace McPhee home last evening prior to the lecture.

Mrs. J. H. Davis and daughter Elsie left this morning for Tulare where they will join Mr. Davis, who has bought a ranch there and located.

Mr. P. R. Atwood and family of San Francisco will occupy the T. M. Purdom home at 1516 North Broadway during the next three months while the Purdoms are in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Browning and son, Felton, left today in the Browning auto for Wheeler Hot Springs, Ventura County. Mrs. Browning's nephew, Alexander Butler, of San Francisco, who has been visiting at the Browning home, is their guest and they are to be joined by Miss Gerald Farrar, also from the Golden Gate City. The party expects to spend ten days at this pleasant outing place before returning to their respective homes.

Chas. H. Stearns, professor of manual training in the Santa Ana schools, has gone to Berkeley for a six weeks' special course of study in the summer school.

Miss Callie Sparkes of Anaheim is spending the week with Mr. George Ross and family of 1502 North Flower street.

Mrs. Mary Ely and Miss Fannie Smart left this morning for a three weeks' stay at Ivywild and Keenes Camp.

Mrs. Ed Nelson and little son will leave on Friday for a week's visit in San Diego with Mrs. Nelson's friend, Mrs. E. E. Heilbron.

Miss Ethel Gardner, who taught at Anaheim last year and who has accepted a re-appointment there for next year, spent last week at Banning visiting her cousin, Mr. Wilford, and the J. G. Morrisons. She reports Mr. Morris as fast regaining his health. On Friday Miss Gardner will leave by boat for Berkeley, where she will attend the state university summer school. Following that, she will spend a month in the mountains near Bakersfield before returning home.

Mrs. Louis P. Keller of Los Angeles, whose piano pupils were presented in recital last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lou P. Hickox, was the house guest of Mrs. George R. Smith and Mrs. Ella I. Fyfe yesterday and today.

J. H. Brooks writes from Watertown, Wis., directing that his Register be delivered hereafter at 626 South Sycamore street, Santa Ana, which means "coming home."

JOIN THE HOOSIER KITCHEN CABINET CLUB

If you are not a member of the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet Club, it's not too late to join. The club is being formed by the Horton-Spurgeon Furniture Company and one of these fine Hoosier Cabinets is delivered to each member upon receipt of the membership fee of $1.00. The club is limited to twenty-five members and already most of the memberships have been taken, though there are still a few left.

Our advertisement in last Monday's paper contained a line which stated that only one more day remained in which to become a member of the club. This was a mistake. Members will be accepted until the full number, twenty-five, has been secured. The $1.00 membership fee applies on the purchase price, after which members pay weekly dues of $1.00 until the cabinet is paid for, at manufacturer's list price. This is a rare opportunity to own a Kitchen Cabinet at a moderate cost and on very easy terms. Come in and talk it over with us.

ANAHEIM PHYSICIAN BUYS CANYON LAND

Dr. Johnston of Anaheim has bought of Martin H. Shields of Santa Ana, 198 acres, located in the Santa Ana canyon. The deal was made by the Orange County Realty Company of Anaheim.

Last week Mr. Shields sold 84 acres to H. H. Lewis. This 84 acres was a part of a 191-acre tract and the sale just made to Dr. Johnston disposes of his entire holdings in the Santa Ana canyon.

UNIQUE PARADE ON STREETS HERALDED
ELKS' INITIATION

There was a "Hot Time in the Old Town" last night; at least, that was the fact heralded by the "hazy" band which went marching (7) up and down the streets, led by four "mounted" Elks and a "mounted" policeman. The policeman, however, was securely shackled and his mount was carefully guided through the thoroughfares by a one-armed pedestrian. The mounted policeman was Jim Murray—you never guess it, would you?

Following the band was an automobile truck upon which was a large bird cage. Was the cage empty? It was not. District Attorney L. A. West and Mr. John Osterman were the first birds to be placed in the cage when the "hunt" started on Sycamore street in front of the Elks' Hall. At the corner of Fourth and Sycamore another stray buck was captured, thrown into the "corral" and prepared for branding. This stranger to the herd was identified as "Billy" Smith. Up Fourth street the chase continued, and when Bush street was reached, Geo. B. Shattuck was discovered serenely watching the performance and apparently enjoying the joke. Of course, it was merely a coincidence that he happened to be there, but the "hunters" decided that he was "game," and into the cage he went.

At French street this grotesque procession counter-marched and returned to the Elks' Hall, where the five captive bucks were properly branded and made members of the antlered herd. Thus the secret of the strange apparition was revealed.

The "goat" was also in evidence, harnessed to a miniature wagon and driven by Master Schultz. Each of the candidates claimed the goat—at least each admitted that his animal had been "got."

RAILROADS WILL PUT
NEW RATES IN FORCE

ST. LOUIS, June 25.—Railroads in Missouri, affected by the recent decision of the United States supreme court upholding the Missouri 2-cent passenger and maximum freight rate laws, will, without waiting for the mandate of the supreme court, put the new rates in force "at the earliest practical date," according to an announcement by attorneys representing the railroads, after a meeting here yesterday.

LATE SEASON SHOWER
FELL HERE LAST NIGHT

A light rain fell here last night, not enough to do any great harm or good. While some hay was wet, the sugar beets were benefited, and the hay dried off quickly today. A heavy rain now would start the weeds to growing among the lima beans. The fall here last night was .17 of an inch. At Orange the fall was .25 of an inch.

EBELL PRESIDENT
VOICES APPEAL

Places Reports of Day Nursery
Finances Before Public;
Urges Continuance

To the Public:

The Day Nursery which was established and has been managed by the Ebell Club of Santa Ana Valley since May, 1911, has developed into such an important institution that every member of the society has ample cause to feel a special pride and satisfaction in the success of the undertaking, filling as it does a glaring need in the community.

Not only working mothers are thereby provided with a comfortable and suitable home for their children during the hours of their labor for the small charge of ten cents per day, but it has also proved a boon to an occasional weary mother who has found it necessary to be absent from home because of illness, business, or a day's needed recreation in which instances they have often paid far in excess of the regular charge, thirty-five cents, for the comfort of knowing their babies were safe and receiving every attention. These latter, however, have been few in comparison with the daily attendance of children from homes where the mother would otherwise have been obliged to be separated from her family or abandon her position along the various avenues of self support.

Although the Ebell society established and has had entire management of the Nursery, as a society, it feels that much is due outside patrons who have contributed so generously to its needs.

Feeling that it may be of some interest to the public in general to know more of the conditions of the institution I take pleasure in giving for your consideration the annual report which has been most accurately given me by the treasurer, Mrs. A. Jones, and also earnestly urge upon as many as can conveniently, a visit to the little home, 211 East Fifth street, that you may see for yourselves the result of the efforts made in behalf of this philanthropy.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION ON FRIDAY

Schools of Santa Ana District to Hear Good Speakers and Good Program

The annual Sunday school convention of the Santa Ana district will be held here on Friday, June 27, at the First Presbyterian Church.

The most notable of the outside speakers will be Miss Stickney, who speaks on "Temperance and Its Place in the Sunday School," and J. H. Troy, who will deliver the closing address of the convention.

Each school has been asked to report enrollment, average attendance, number teachers and officers, enrollment of Cradle Roll, Home Department, number of conversions from school during year and any other feature of the school that may be interesting or helpful.

The school having present the largest percentage of teachers, officers and members at the roll call will be presented a fine silk flag. This flag to be the property of the school winning it two years in succession.

Those attending the convention and who will be present at the noon hour are asked to take their lunch baskets. Hot coffee and tea will be served free. The program for the three sessions of the day is as follows:

NINETEEN BIDS FOR ONE ROAD' NINE ON THE OTHER

Board of Supervisors and Highway Commission Well Pleased With Figures Presented

Yesterday the Board of Supervisors opened bids for the two roads ready for improvement under the county highway system, three and a quarter miles on Orangethorpe avenue and about five and a half miles on the road between Santa Ana and Huntington Beach. Nineteen bids were received for building the Orangethorpe road and nine for the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach road.

The bids were taken under advertisement until July 2. Each bidder put in a figure on ten different items, and while he might be high on one item, that item may not amount to much on the job. Shaping road bed varied from ten cents to fifty cents per lineal foot. The concrete road bed varied for $2.25 to $5.99 per cubic yard.

Among the bidders were two Anaheim firms and Oscar Ford, the Riverside man who built the Seylers canyon road. The nineteen bidders on the Orangethorpe road were C. S. Chamberlain, Anaheim; J. R. Ott Contracting Co., Anaheim; Cox & Matthews, Pasadena; G. F. Pennybaker, Los Angeles; G. M. Santer, Los Angeles; Richard Rothwell, Los Angeles; Ocedental Co., Los Angeles; W. O. Donnanville, Pasadena; Brasier, Burns Co., Los Angeles; F. Pendergast, Los Angeles; Rogers Bros. Co., Los Angeles; Marion Lewis, Los Angeles; Taylor Birtimer, Los Angeles; J. S. Highland, Anaheim; Connor Construction Co., Los Angeles; J. Sonrimee and McClure, Upland; F. E. Shaffer, Los Angeles; Oscar Ford, Riverside; G. S. Benson & Sons, Los Angeles. The first nine named also bid on the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach road.

Petition Referred

The petition of Fred Koebell for permission to build a wharf and small harbor near Serra was referred to Supervisor Leck.

To Sell Bonds

The date for the sale of the $50,000 school bonds was set for July 15.

Leave of Absence

District Attorney West was given a leave of absence of sixty days from the state. He is to go to Kentucky to see his mother, who is ill.

The board ordered advertisement for bids for 100,000 pamphlets descriptive of Orange county, to be opened July 2 at 10 a. m.

YOUNG LADIES VISITING AT IRVINE RANCH HOUSE TAKE JOY RIDE IN THE AIR

Tomorrow morning Glenn L. Martin, the aviator, leaves Los Angeles with four mechanics for Chicago, where he will compete with the best aviators on earth in a meet, the biggest in the United States this year. Yesterday Martin was at East Newport, where he made three flights in the big passenger-carrying biplane that he has just completed and which will be entered at Chicago.

Martin's flights yesterday were short but satisfying. On his first air voyage he took Warren Eaton and Charles Day, two of his employees. On his second excursion into the empty-rear he had as his guests three San Francisco society girls, the Misses Gladys Boston, Loraine Plum and Madeline Agasiz. On his last journey Frank Garbutt, millionaire sportsman and air explorer, and Eaton were his companions.

The three young ladies are visitors at the Irvine ranch-house and with James Irvine, Jr., were at the bay watching the flights. They had no idea of taking a flight until after they were seated in the boat of the hydro, into which they had gone to have their pictures taken. Martin invited them to fly, and they flew, all three of them. They came down wildly excited and pleased over the sensation.

Great hopes are placed in the new craft by its designer and owner. Swiss cheese air effects hold no terror for him. He does not fear the treacherous air currents of the great lakes and has great expectations concerning the 900-mile reliability contest—an air cruise from Chicago to Detroit by way of the lakes. The craft winning this race must enter the control on time. One point will be deducted for every minute lost.

The international efficiency contest will start at the water-front off Grant Park, Chicago. The hydroplanes must sail on the water every other mile.

The Martin tractor hydroplane weighs 1450 pounds and is capable of carrying six or seven passengers. Four persons can ride in it with comfort. The greatest load yesterday, including the weight of the boat, was approximately one ton, and this soared through the air at an 80-mile-an-hour speed.

SPECIAL SERVICE FOR THE NEW PASTOR

Public recognition service of the new pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Rev. William Thomas, is to be held on Friday, June 27, 1913, at 7:30 p. m.

Addresses will (D. V.) be given by C. M. Carter, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church, Los Angeles, Edward H. Emet, D. D., director of religious work, Y. M. C. A., Los Angeles, and Otto S. Russell, D. D., pastor, First Baptist Church, San a Ana. The city and neighboring pastors are also asked to take part in the exercises and the members of the various congregations are cordially invited to attend.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY URGED

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Secretary of Labor W. B. Wilson addressed a joint meeting of all branches of railroad employees here Monday and said the ultimate goal is a universal eight-hour day for all railroad employees, arranged so they can spend their "off" time at home.

TINY BARKER WITH EVANSVILLE, IND.

Tiny Barker is now with the Evansville, Ind., baseball team, and is making good on its pitching staff. Since he began playing with that team a few days ago he has pitched three games and won two and lost one by a score of 2 to 0. From clippings received by Victor Walker, who did a good deal to get Barker started into professional baseball, Barker is popular in Evansville, where he used to live. One clipping tells of a game in which Barker went in to win a game apparently lost. He succeeded in his mission.

PRINCESS "PAT" WON AT LAST SAYS PROSAC DISPATCH

LONDON, June 25.—A Berlin dispatch to the Standard says the engagement will shortly be announced of Princess Patricia, daughter of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, and Prince Adolf Friedrich, heir to the duchy of Mecklenburg-Strelitz.

Charles A. de Lisle-Holland

has come to Santa Ana to meet the shareholders of Mahomet Amusement Company, and invites you to call and meet him personally, whether or not you feel that you would be interested in purchasing some of the shares of this company.

Mr. Holland may be seen at any time for the next two days, or during the evening, at the jewelry store of J. H. Padgham & Son, 104 East Fourth street, and will take pleasure in explaining why Mahomet's Mountain is his masterpiece, and why it will be the one great dominating attraction of the coming Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco.

Only a Few Days More to Buy at 20 Cents

Tuesday of next week, July 1st, the shares of this Company take a sharp advance. This advance in price, while amply justified, is not so important as the fact that there may be no more shares for sale. They are going fast. Over 100 Santa Ana people have invested already, and the list is open for inspection. You are sure to want some of these big and sure World's Fair profits, which are confidently expected to be as much as

$10 in Dividends for Every $1 Invested

This estimate, while large, is backed up by substantial facts, worthy of your investigation. Find out for yourself. Call and meet Mr. Holland personally.

Fold Up Your Paper --- Come Down Tonight

This company will soon be a closed corporation, because all the shares will be sold, and this opportunity will pass you. The statements in this advertisement are strong, but will bear strict investigation.

RISE AND FALL OF THE BICYCLE AND MOTORCYCLE

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Statistics for the bicycle, motorcycle, and parts industry are presented in a bulletin soon to be issued by Director Durand of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. It was prepared under the supervision of W. M. Steuart, chief statistician for manufactures.

The number of bicycles made decreased from 1,182,691, valued at $23,656,487, in 1899 to 259,487, with a value of $3,749,923, in 1904, and 233,707, valued at $2,228,189, in 1909, while the output of motorcycles increased from 169, valued at $33,674, in 1899, to 2328, valued at $359,180, in 1904, and 18,628, with a value of $3,915,988, in 1909.

The evolution of the bicycle from primitive and unserviceable types to a useful and attractive means of travel may be said to have taken place between 1868 and 1890; and its perfection and standardization into practically one form of structure, the modern "safety" between 1890 and 1895. During this latter period the popularity of the bicycle became so widespread that the industry grew very rapidly, but after about 1897 it began to decline.

A considerable recovery of the industry as a whole is indicated by the statistics for 1909. While the number of establishments in that year shows a decrease from the number in 1904, the average number of wage earners increased 1118, or 33.7 per cent, and the value of products, $5,545,327, or 167.6 per cent. The most important factor in the renewal of activity in the industry has been the growing demand for motorcycles.

Most Children Have Worms

Many mothers think their children are suffering from indigestion, headache, nervousness, weakness, costiveness, when they are victims of that most common of all children's ailments—worms. Peevish, ill-tempered, fretful children, who toss and grind their teeth, with bad breath and colicky pains, have all the symptoms of having worms, and should be given Kickapoo Worm Killer, a pleasant candy lozenge, which expels worms, regulates the bowels, tones up the system, and makes children well and happy. Kickapoo Worm Killer is guaranteed. All druggists, or by mail, Price 25c. Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis.—Advertisement.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON LETTER

By Burton K. Standish.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The reading public may recall that a year ago, or somewhere thereabouts, there was a little fuss with Great Britain about those Panama canal tolls. Most folks have probably forgotten about the matter. The newspapers haven't been printing "first page stuff" about it for some time. One would think that the question had been settled.

It hasn't, however. The state department tape still entwines Great Britain's notes. President Wilson has the controversy down in his memorandum book. It is still pending—and will, in all probability, be pending when the big waterway is completed, sometime in October or November. The tolls dispute may be settled diplomatically. It may be disposed of by leaders of the senate and house collaborating on a scheme to repeal the provision to which Great Britain objects—that granting American vessels free passage through the canal. There are several other modes of settlement—but all will take a long time. Diplomacy is necessarily a slow and cautious method. Red tape is found nowhere in such liberal quantities as it is used so extensively as at the state department. And the present session of congress will be devoted exclusively to the tariff and currency, according to present plans.

Nevertheless there are several congressional leaders who plan to bring the Panama tolls controversy up this session, if they possibly can. The house interstate and foreign commerce committee has several bills before it touching on the matter. Representative Adamson of Georgia, chairman of the committee, has already directed that his committee members study the question thoroughly, in order to be ready for work. Adamson is mildly opposed to the free tolls plan. He fought it bitterly in the house, being the only Democratic member of his committee to present an adverse report to the Panama measure. The Georgian thinks congress will now repeal the objectionable paragraph. He points out that the section was passed by the scant majority of sixteen in the last congress, and he believes since that time the legislators have had time to figure out that its operation would be a mere granting of a legalized monopoly to a few shipping concerns of the trade between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

On the senate side, O'Gorman, chairman of the Inter-oceanic canals committee, takes an opposite view from Adamson. There is now a movement on foot in this committee to give President Wilson the power to suspend the exemption clause. "I can only be done," he says, "by passage of a resolution, and it is believed that the house would refuse to concur in such a plan. House leaders think the scheme a strategic one designed obviously and solely as a test of the free tolls sentiment of the new members. The resolution introduced by Representative Thetus Sims of Tennessee, and now pending in Adamson's committee, will be the first to be considered by the Interstate Commerce committee members. It repeals the exemption clause. Sims thinks the bill will pass the house, but it is doubtful about the senate.

Purity in politics is a well-known hobby of the president's secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty. He tells an interesting story of the changed political conditions, from the days when machines and bosses ruled and when ballot frauds were numerous. "Some years ago, when I was a youngster," Secretary Tumulty relates, "I was secretary of the Democratic committee in Jersey City. The leader was an old, red-faced Irishman, whom we will call Pat McHale. "I was sitting in the office one day, two weeks before a primary election, and Pat was filling long sheets of paper with figures. He was thinking hard and working like a beaver. "What are you so busy about?" I asked Pat. "Casting the primary returns," Pat replied. "And he was, too," Tumulty avers.

so far as one outside the charmed circle of royalty could judge, was one of unusual cordiality and was marked by an apparently genuine and amiable exchange of courtesies between the Kaiser and his two reputed enemies.

That is of significance, but there is more yet. For the rulers of Russia and Great Britain were here as guests at the marriage of the Kaiser's only daughter to the son of his bitterest German enemy. The bitterest enemy himself came to the wedding, entering Berlin for the first time since his father's kingdom was stolen by Bismarck, and the bridegroom had but recently taken the oath of allegiance to Prussia and had been appointed an officer in a famous regiment of hussars. All these things, of course, may have just happened so, but to believe this is to strain the doctrine of probabilities. They happened so because a clear headed ruler, according to the impression which is growing, planned all these things in the interests of peace. All of which goes to show that if a man builds himself a reputation as a fighter he is about the best possible leader of peace movements.

VIENNA, June 25.—The real reason for the suffragette outrages in England has been discovered. Lecturing in the Vienna Urania, Dr. Julius Pokorny today explained why modern England afforded such fertile ground for "this extraordinary psychical epidemic." The fact that similar political and economic conditions existed in other countries led the professor to conclude that "the true origin of this fanatical barbarism is to be found in the ancient civilization of the British Isles."

"Among the original inhabitants of England," he said, "woman occupied a dominating position. She spent her life in boundless liberty. Now, this original population, in contrast with that of the rest of Western Europe, has managed to remain comparatively pure, whereas there has been constant retrogression of the Anglo-Saxon stock. In London, for instance, only one-seventh of the people are blond. It is no wonder therefore, that 1400 years of Anglo-Saxon rule has not sufficed to keep back instincts which for more than 4000 years were permitted to develop unhindered among the original inhabitants."

Dr. Pokorny finished by warning his hearers against "the terrible consequences of women's franchise," which, he predicted, would drive every state into socialism and anarchy.

Narrowing Gretna Green

Gradually the door is being closed against runaway and hasty marriages. Since New Jersey a few years ago enacted laws which made Camden undesirable for elopers from this city, Wilmington has been the Gretna Green. But there have been some scandals, as there always will be in such cases, and Delaware could not be expected to enjoy scandals not of her own creating. A bill is now going through the legislature of that state to require a lapse of four days between the application for the issuance of a marriage license in the case of a non-resident. If that act becomes a law it will be impossible for Philadelphia couples to rush down to Wilmington after breakfast, get married and be home again by lunch time. It will be a good thing in some ways.—Philadelphia Press.

Better Pay for Women

The women stenographers and typists of Melbourne have formed an association with the object of getting better pay. The rate fixed recently by a wages board "determination" began with a minimum of $2.50 a week for girls of sixteen, and ran up to a minimum of $12 at one-and-twenty. But Australian women expect much higher payment than English women, and the association demands $6.25 as a beginning wage, with an annual advance of $1.25 weekly. At the end of four years this would produce a salary of $13.25, at which figure they desire to have the minimum fixed. The action of these young women seems to contradict the theory of some economists that a minimum wage tends to be accepted as a maximum.

Executioner of the Will

Strictly speaking, it was only a police court, but to the little old lady who waited in and addressed the magistrate it must have been the high or appeal court or all our courts rolled in one. "Are you the judge?" asked the perky little party. "Well, not strictly speaking; but I'm the magistrate. What can I do for you, madam?" "What I've come for," rattled on the old lady, "is for help in my trouble. I'm a widow. My husband died a testator, and left three little infants and under his will I am appointed their executrix."

Still, where there's a will there's a way, and the magistrate passed her on to a lawyer who happened to be at hand. Cleaning Varnished Paint. A painter who was preparing some much soiled varnished wood for a new coat of varnish began his work by a thorough washing with a strong mixture of ammonia and water. This removed the blackness from the wood—a banister, to be exact—then came a rubbing with sand-paper, a coat of shellac, and finally the new coat of varnish which completed the transformation. The ammonia and water the painter used was purposely made very strong to remove the soiled varnish. "But," he said, "if you merely want to clean slightly soiled varnished wood, use about a tablespoonful of household ammonia in a gallon and a half of water. That will cleanse without destroying the varnish."

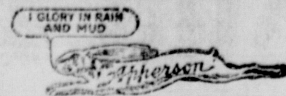

Woman's Valuable Invention. Mrs. Isabella Gillen, inventor of a practical apparatus which automatically cuts off the supply of gas in case of fire, thus preventing all chances of asphyxiation should it become necessary to enter a burning building, is the wife of a Rockaway Beach, Long Island, master plumber. She has had no education along mechanical or technical lines, but has perfected a wonderful device, consisting of a thermostat filled with mercury.

WHAT IS DOING ABROAD

By Karl Von Wiegand, Berlin Correspondent of U. P.

BERLIN, June 25.—The young subalterns, who hope for war because it means chances for promotion; the gunmakers, who hope for war because it means business, and the jingoes, who hope for war because they are built that way and can't help it, sit in their respective circles and speak bitterly of the man who hears the title of War Lord and refuses to go to war if he can avoid it. They point to the fact that the Kaiser has just justified an appeal to arms, and glorify the young Crown Prince, who sits in the imperial gallery of the Reichstag and applauds warlike sentiments, and who writes books picturing the splendors of the battle-field.

Through it all the object of their wrath goes his way unmoved, and the whole world had occasion recently to send its congratulations and good wishes to a War Lord who has done more than any other sovereign to preserve the peace of Europe for a quarter of a century. For twenty-five years Kaiser Wilhelm II has been a rock against which every jingoistic movement of his subjects has been wrecked. An advocate of a formidable army, a believer in war as a school for the manly virtues, an emperor who rarely lets himself be seen except in military uniform, the Kaiser has nevertheless repeatedly made it clear that he will not enter a war until all other courses are closed. But if he must, then and then only, will he be the real War Lord. MacDermott's famous song of 1878 fits the case exactly: "We don't want to fight, but, by jingo, if we do."

TWO MINISTERS ARE ORDAINED AT ANAHEIM

Los Angeles District Presbytery is in Session—Three New Churches

ANAHEIM, June 25.—The Los Angeles District Presbytery, composed of the counties of Orange, Los Angeles, Imperial and San Diego, met in this city yesterday morning and held one of the most interesting meetings that has been conducted in this section.

It was an all-day meeting, 100 ministers from various parts of the southland, representing that number of churches, being in attendance. Much important business was transacted during the forenoon sessions, and after the roll call of all the Presbyterian churches in Southern California, the Presbytery voted to support the Home Missionary Board in carrying on the Mexican work on this coast, and a telegram was sent to the home board headquarters, at New York to that effect.

Three new churches have been organized since the meeting of the Presbytery, and the work of that denomination is proving successful in every branch. Rev. H. H. Fisher of the Los Angeles Third Church acted as moderator, and Dr. W. S. Young served as clerk during the sessions. Other prominent and promising Presbyterian preachers here today include John Willis Rader of Occidental College, G. C. Butterfield, Los Angeles; J. N. Hutchinson and A. B. Prichard.

Fred Clifton Thomson, who holds the world's championship for an all-around athlete, a Los Angeles boy, but who has just returned from Princeton theological seminary, and Harold Francis Pellegrin, a native of Anaheim, who has just finished a three years' course at Princeton, were ordained as ministers of the gospel. The service was conducted in an impressive manner this afternoon, many boyhood friends attending the ordination services. Mr. Pellegrin will return to Baltimore, Md., where he will act as assistant minister for Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, pastor of the Brown Memorial church. The engagement of Mr. Pellegrin to Miss Edith Wilson, daughter of Prof. Wilson of Princeton College, has just been announced, but the wedding will not occur for some time.

Three young men received the license and ordination today, this being an important event of the meeting. Besides Mr. Pellegrin there were Fred Clifton Thomson and Earl Hill, the latter graduating from the McCormick Theological Seminary. These young men were seated today in the local pulpit, and answered all manner of questions that the elders and older ministers of the denomination could think to fire at them. The answers were given in a most graceful and satisfactory manner, and the bright and brainy boys received congratulations and "God speeds" from their many friends from both this city and Los Angeles.

"WHAT'S UNDER YOUR HAT?" SUBJECT OF HIS LECTURE

Dr. James Whitcomb Brounger, pastor of Temple Baptist church, Los Angeles, delivered one of his characteristic lectures on the subject of "What's Under Your Hat?" last evening at the College of Music. His sermon was throughout a plea to the effect that no matter in what surroundings a young man or young woman is born, or by what kind of parents, or depending from what kind of ancestors, if that young man or young woman uses his or her God given mind which is under the hat, to be able to distinguish between right and wrong, to set an ideal and with determination and backbone go after that ideal, there is no power in this earth that can stop that person from succeeding in this life. Dr. Brounger came here under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor societies of the First Baptist church, this city. The auditorium and balcony of the hall were comfortably filled when Rev. Russell said a few words introducing the speaker of the evening. Rev. Russell said that he thought everybody in the audience would be glad to welcome Dr. Brounger once again. He said he appreciated the services the orchestra, and also the efforts of the young people of the church in being successful in securing Dr. Brounger to deliver his splendid lecture.

Dr. Brounger said that he was very glad of the opportunity of being in Santa Ana again and that he felt quite at home. "I am glad to see so many familiar faces here this evening," said he. "The subject of 'What's Under Your Hat' was given to me by a newsboy who was looking at a dude passing down the street. He said to another little fellow, 'See that hat going down the street with nothing under it.' 'Under your hat is to be found everything that you are or intend to be. We are body, mind and soul, and we must discover the material that we have, and then use that material to the best advantage. A young man or young woman may be born of the best parents and have the very best hereditary blood in his or her veins, but that does not necessarily make them excellent characters." Dr. Brounger then gave illustrations from the lives of some of the greatest men this country has ever had, the majority of whom were of poor parentage and had to struggle to get along in the world. "There is not a boy or girl born who, if they make up their minds to make something out of themselves, they can do it and no power in this world can stop it," said he. After referring to the lives of Abraham Lincoln and Booker T. Washington Dr. Brounger said:

"If a boy born in slavery and by sheer determination can make a man of himself, others can do it. 'What's under your hat?' I can say with the firmest conviction that providing God did not make you an idiot, he has wrapped up enough power in you, which if exercised in the proper manner would make the lives of others worth living. I believe in education."

There are no two people alike in this world. There is some vital difference in you from anybody else, absolutely so. All possess some special God given gift and we ought to discover it and study along that line. The cheapest things in this world are misfits. Every young man or young woman should get some ideal and go after it with determination and courage. Never give up and never be satisfied until that ideal has been accomplished. But be sure you know where you are heading and that you are in the right before you start. Then there is our bodies. I believe the God Almighty gave us our bodies to give interpretation to the soul. We can read people by their body. We can read the character of men and women by their faces. The soul carries out its purpose through the body. The body must be trained. It is really marvelous what the body can do when it is trained. We must therefore take care of our bodies, so that we can be assured greater opportunity in this world.

"God gave you a mind. It is our business to train and develop the mind to think for ourselves. I believe in an independent mind before God. The people of this country have been simply following leaders in politics for years, but we are coming upon an age when the people are going to think for themselves on all political questions."

"If a man or woman wishes to achieve great things he or her must exercise the mind to think properly. It is also a great thing to develop the memory. But always remember the good and eliminate the bad. I would eliminate everything that is not bright, clean and good, and remember everything that is clean and good. Here we are," Dr. Brounger said impressively, "with bodies, souls, minds, and memories, why not all them with memories of good, clean things? Your imagination can work wonders. Your imagination can change the whole world for you. Use your imaginative powers to make the world happier and brighter. Don't be a pessimist. Don't be among those who are continuously looking on the dark side of life."

The speaker said that God has given everybody a power with which to distinguish between right and wrong and those who are going to win out in this life are the ones who use their mental judgment under their hats to distinguish right and wrong. Dr. Brounger brought out the fact that it is character that counts above everything else and it makes no difference where a person is put, he can go out into the world and make everything harmonize with his thoughts, if he will only use his moral judgment in the right way.

All through his address Dr. Brounger illustrated his thoughts in his usual characteristic witty fashion, telling a number of stories which on one or two occasions fairly "brought down the house."

UNDERGROUND WATERS OF THE SACRAMENTO VALLEY

United States Geological Survey and California State Conservation Commission Making Comprehensive Investigations in the Interests of California Irrigators.

Last September the United States and drainage of the ground waters Geological Survey, under cooperative agreement with the California State Conservation Commission, began an extensive investigation of the underground water problems in the great Sacramento Valley of California.

Geologist Kirk Bryan, who was placed in charge of the work, carried it on during the fall and early winter and has just now again left Washington for the field to continue the examination of the valley's water resources.

The Sacramento Valley is a broad and fertile plain lying between the Sierra Nevada and Coast range and forming the northern part of the Great Valley of California, of which the San Joaquin is the southern lobe. The Sacramento Valley itself is 150 miles long and 40 miles wide and includes an area of about 2,000,000 acres. About 50 per cent of this area consists of low land that is under water nearly every year and 10 per cent is land that is occasionally overflowed, but about 40 per cent consists of higher land not subject to overflow but requiring irrigation for its highest development.

The valley has a threefold problem—to improve and restrain the rivers for navigation, to reclaim the lowlands by preventing floods and by draining off surplus water, and to irrigate those higher lands which require water to yield the greatest returns and to support the largest population.

The Sacramento is a large navigable river that drains the full length of the valley, its principal tributaries being Feather, American, and Mokelumne rivers, which rise in the high altitudes of the Sierra Nevada. In the flatter parts of the valley these streams flow on ridges 5 to 20 feet above the general level, including large flood basins or troughs. The ridges are built by the accumulation of sand and silt deposited by the streams as they overflow their banks. Overflow at some point is a yearly occurrence, for the capacity of the channel of the Sacramento is less than one-third that necessary to carry ordinary floods. The overflowed lands, which in many places support a luxuriant swamp vegetation, are among the most fertile in the valley and the desire to reclaim them and to prevent the increasing losses from floods has caused the building of levees to confine and control the rivers.

Water Close to Surface The alluvial materials which fill the valley are saturated with water and in many places the top of this saturated zone, or the water table, lies very close to the surface of the ground. Thus in the center of the valley the water is less than 8 feet below the surface over large areas. In such places crops are subirrigated
